

Handwritten Persian text at the top of the page, including a title and introductory lines.

Main body of handwritten Persian text, consisting of several paragraphs detailing agricultural or administrative matters.

Bottom section of the document containing a list of items, possibly a ledger or inventory, with handwritten entries and some printed text.